1387 Exploring the Implications of ChatGPT by TEAM.docx;

Dr Risang Baskara:

We have reached a decision regarding your submission to IJELTAL (Indonesian Journal of English Language Teaching and Applied Linguistics), "Exploring the Implications of ChatGPT for Language Learning in Higher Education".

Our decision is: Revisions Required

Overall, this is an interesting article about "Exploring the Implications of ChatGPT for Language Learning in Higher Education". The topic is factual and genuine. This article falls within the aims and scope of the IJELTAL. It is of interest to EFL teachers everywhere.

There are, however, some suggestions to improve the article.

Introduction: It is better to state several previous related studies to clearly show the gap of the research. Please add some more relevant studies. It would be better if you try to build the case more than repeatedly mentioned the research objective.

Introduction: Some paragraphs are too short.

Discussion: You should compare and contrast your findings to some more references.

References: Avoid citations with an unknown year of publication.

References: Need more references.

Please revise the article within two weeks.

Best,
IJELTAL Team

Dear IJELTAL Team,

Thank you for reaching a decision regarding my submission, "Exploring the Implications of ChatGPT for Language Learning in Higher Education". I am grateful for your feedback and appreciate the time and effort invested by the editorial team and reviewers in evaluating my manuscript.

I acknowledge the "Revisions Required" decision and will make the necessary revisions to address the suggestions provided by the reviewers. I agree with the suggestions to improve the introduction by stating several previous related studies to clearly show the gap of the research. I will also ensure that the case is built more than repeatedly mentioning the research objective, and that paragraphs are not too short.

Additionally, I will compare and contrast my findings to some more references, and ensure that I avoid citations with an unknown year of publication. I will also add more references to the paper as suggested.

I am committed to improving my manuscript and will submit the revised version within two weeks, as requested.

Thank you once again for your guidance and support throughout the submission process.

Sincerely,

Risang

Dear IJELTAL Team,

I have revised the document based on the suggestions provided in your decision letter. I have also added several more relevant studies to the introduction to clearly demonstrate the research gap. Additionally, I have expanded some of the shorter paragraphs and compared and contrasted my findings with additional references in the discussion section.

I have uploaded the revised document to the open journal system, and I hope it meets your expectations. Please let me know if there are any further steps that I need to take.

Thank you for your guidance and feedback.

Best regards,

Risang
