Journal: Heliyon

Dear Mrs Setyaningsih,

We have now received all of the reviewers' comments on your recent submission to Heliyon.

The reviewers have advised that your manuscript should become suitable for publication in our journal after appropriate revisions.

If you are able to address the reviewers' comments, which you can find below, I would like to invite you to revise and resubmit your manuscript. We ask that you respond to each reviewer comment by either outlining how the criticism was addressed in the revised manuscript or by providing a rebuttal to the criticism. This should be carried out in a point-by-point fashion as illustrated here:

<https://www.cell.com/heliyon/guide-for-authors#Revisions>

To allow the editors and reviewers to easily assess your revised manuscript, we also ask that you upload a version of your manuscript highlighting any revisions made. You may wish to use Microsoft Word's Track Changes tool or, for LaTeX files, the latexdiff Perl script (<https://ctan.org/pkg/latexdiff>).

To submit your revised manuscript, please log in as an author at <https://www.editorialmanager.com/heliyon/>, and navigate to the "Submissions Needing Revision" folder under the Author Main Menu. Your revision due date is Jan 09, 2021.

We understand that the global COVID-19 situation may well be causing disruption for you and your colleagues. If that is the case for you and it has an impact on your ability to make revisions to address the concerns that came up in the review process, please let us know so we can discuss with you potential revision deadline extensions. Please also note that Heliyon focuses on technically correct science and so you are only expected to include revisions that are necessary to ensure that the content and the conclusions of the research are technically correct.

I look forward to receiving your revised manuscript.

Kind regards,

Apollinaire Tsopmo
Associate Editor - Food and Nutrition

Editor and Reviewer comments:

Reviewer #3: The authors have tried their best to revised the paper. However, I still think the manuscript is quite wordy, and it can be published in Heliyon after revision.

comment:

1. In the Method development part, the authors can supply the important information for this work is fine. Some points are the common sense for the readers in this field. I think the authors can simplify it.
2. In the part Selection of Mobile Phase, stating the authors' own work will be fine.
2. It is better to offer the error bars in Figure 6.

Data in Brief (optional):

We invite you to convert your supplementary data (or a part of it) into an additional journal publication in Data in Brief, a multi-disciplinary open access journal. Data in Brief articles are a fantastic way to describe supplementary data and associated metadata, or full raw datasets deposited in an external repository, which are otherwise unnoticed. A Data in Brief article (which will be reviewed, formatted, indexed, and given a DOI) will make your data easier to find, reproduce, and cite.

You can submit to Data in Brief when you upload your revised manuscript. To do so, complete the template and follow the co-submission instructions found here: www.elsevier.com/dib-template. If your manuscript is accepted, your Data in Brief submission will automatically be transferred to Data in Brief for editorial review and publication.

Please note: an open access Article Publication Charge (APC) is payable by the author or research funder to cover the costs associated with publication in Data in Brief and ensure your data article is immediately and permanently free to access by all. For the current APC see:

www.elsevier.com/journals/data-in-brief/2352-3409/open-access-journal

Please contact the Data in Brief editorial office at dib-me@elsevier.com or visit the Data in Brief homepage (www.journals.elsevier.com/data-in-brief/) if you have questions or need further information.

Dear Yustina Sri Hartini,

It's been 6 years since Heliyon launched as an open access journal publishing scientifically accurate and valuable research across life, physical, social, applied, and medical sciences. We've come a long way.

We are delighted to announce that Heliyon has received its first impact factor of 3.776. Indexation in the Science Citation Index Expanded (SCIE) and receiving an impact factor provide increased visibility and profile not only for Heliyon but for the important work that our authors choose to publish in the journal.

This is yet another endorsement of the reliability and quality of the journal.

We'd like to extend a special thank you to our editors, advisory board members, reviewers, authors, and readers for the contributions that enabled Heliyon to become such a reliable and high-quality source of information; a title trusted and recognized by the community, where the hard work of our authors gets discovered and read by many thousands of researchers and institutions worldwide.

We appreciate and look forward to your continued support.

If it's important to you, it's important to us.

With very best wishes,

Christian Schulz
Lead editor, Heliyon

Make an impact and publish your next research paper in Heliyon.
